MOTOR RACE,

An American Machine the First to Ar rive at Brighton in the Race From London.

LONDON, Nov. 14.-An enormous ourse of people, including the Duke of Teck and Princes Edward and Herman of Saxe-Weimar, witnessed the start to-day from the Hotel Metropole of about sixty motor cars and cycles under the auspices of the Motor Car Club, in an inaugural journey from London to Brighton, this being the date when the new highways act comes into force. The start was preceded by a break-fast at the Metropole, after which the chair-may, the Earl of Winchelsea, amid loud cheers, tore up the red flag which, accord-ing to the law, it has hitherto been neces-eary to have carried in front of road motors. A number of the motor cars are electric; others belong to the Britannia Co.'s system, and to the Great Wheel and Carriage Co.

"Here is a case in point: Tom Broderick, a professional thief, was arrested for breaking into and robbing Dr. Hardaway's drog store at Seventh and Wash streets. The officer who arrested him was not subpoenaed and had no means of knowing when the case would be called. When Broderick was arraigned the officer was not there. at 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Her husband, a teacher of the violin, was away from home, and she was alone with her two little children. The family who reside up-stairs were also absent and the flat was almost descrited.

The front curtains were closely drawn, but the light inside was planly in evidence. A shuffling noise, succeeded by heavy foot falls, was heard in the back yard.
Then came several moments of suspense, around in the dark.

Saddenly there came a heavy rapping at the kitchen door.

Mrs. Richter, a rosy little woman with a mild blue evan for a moment she could will now. Her first thought was to prevent on to hear, but her plan was upset when the baby commenced to cry.

A revolver was lying on the mantel-piece. The knocking continued, and rough voices called to her from the darkness.

Impelled by fear Mrs. Richter entered the kitchen, but did not open the door. The voices demanded to know where a certain colored women resided.

Mrs. Richter did not know.

I will ask my husband, she said.

She pretended to call to her husband, but the negroes, hearing no reply, demanded to know what he had said.

In many cases the bogus inspectors do not stop at a mere inspection of the premises. After admission is gained it is an easy matter to "fix" the house so that it can be entered with ease. The "inspector" always makes a trip to the cellar to "examine the wires." While there they have an excellent opportunity to loose boits, unfasten window catches and disable locks, making the house a mark for future operations.

These bogus inspectors have been at work both in the residence and husiness districts.

He is a strong believer in early morning exercise and gets up at 4 a. m. to morning exercise and gets up at 4 a. m. to take his constitutional in the shape of a walk down town to work. Saturday morning he started out from his home on Cook avenue, west of Whittier, and on reaching his front gate started out in the early dawn at a brisk trot with a view to starting his sleep-quieted blood into brisker circulation, the had not gone ten steps when he was brough short up by an ominously sounding command to "Hait." supplemented by the click of a revolver hammer that sounded loud enough to be that of a cannon, if cannons had hammers.

It was the officer on the block and the newspaper man was subjected to a rigid cross questioning and required to prove that he was not an early morning burgiar secaping with his booty before he was let go.

The newspaper man is now undecided as to whether he was known to the officer and held up and mentally searched, because of the shaking up his paper had given the police for not catching the numerous house hurgiars, or whether the officer's watch-rulness was due to the fact that Police Commissioner Lee lived but four doors away.

If the Chief were to place his receptive ear to the iron grating behind which these gentiemen live and move and have their rye bread and sausage, he might pick up something he could use is his husiness.

The light-fingered gentry now in confinement have been reading the papers, however, and keep pretty well posted on what is going forward outside.

They know that the West End is being overrun with thugs and burglars.

If any six of these worthles were called on the St. Louis Police Force the unanimous verdict would be "dead casy; death due to head failure."

Louis Slater and Louis Messmer are Julier Wagner's prize burgiars. They are not very good specimens but are the best the police could find.

A Post-Dispatch reporter was at the fail entrance Friday afternoon during exercise hour. His attention was attracted by a group of prisoners who were discussing the West End burglaries.

Slater and Messmer and little Willie Sherrington, the boy burglar, were in the gathering.

The reporter called Stater to the grating and asked what he thought of St. Louis as mark for thieves.

Stater backed away from the bars, say-ng:

"Now, look-a-here. I ain't no crook. I on't know no more about thieves dan desmond does. I'm a gentleman in hard buck."

Slater grinned broadly, his white teeth showing and his keen eyes gleaming through the screen.

snowing and his keen eyes gleaming through the screen.

Then he assumed a condescending air, and said: "I tink de police are doin' de best dey can. It's dead wrong to jump on 'em when dey don't know any better."

A few minutes later Siater came back, grigning broadly.

"Say, Messmer wants to see you down at de udder end of de vest'bule." he said.

Messmer had his "mug" glued to the screen and appeared tickled to death.

"Say, come close," he said. "I want to tell you what Slater says. He's bashful an' didn't ilke to tell you himself. Slater says de police in de Sout' End are a gravy."

"A gravy."

de police in de Sout' End are a gravy."

"A what!"

"A gray; a dead easy mark. Slater he says dey spends too much time sleepin in woodsheds. Course I don't know, but Slater says so."

Slater says so."

Slater shuffled up at this point and said:

"On de square, widout no jolly, I tink de police force is too small. De collars has to set over too much ground. By de time tley gets to one end of de beat dese crooks is working de udder end. If dey had more fly cops dey'd tatch some o' dese fleves instead of runnin' in innocent people like —"

"Say, you're talkin' foolish," broke in Messmer. "We don't want no more police; dere's too many of 'em now."

Little Willie Sherrington strolled along and in reply to a question said:

"I thought the police were pretty slick when they got me, but I have changed my mind somewhat. I think they spend too much time arresting negroes and small crooks. They seem to think they have done something great when they run in a crowd of boys for standing on a corner. Of course, that's just my own opinion. I wouldn't want to be quoted as roasting the police. This is the first day I've been out of my cell for two weeks. After my cellmate, Halloran, got a steel saw passed into him, they kept me locked up. They might lock me up for two weeks. After my cellmate, Hallor-an, got a steel saw passed into him, they kept me locked up. They might lock me up again if I said anything indiscreet." And the accomplished little house and heart breaker floated gracefully away. The next time Chief Harrigan has a con-ference in his office he should call in a few of the immates of the jail and hold a consul-tation with them.

VERDICT PREPOSTEROUS.

Judge Harvey Talks to a Shooting Case Jury.

Judge Harvey, in Criminal Court No. laturday, told a jury that its verdict was Saturday, told a jury that its verdict was preposterous. He did not like the verdict, as it tried to divide justice and find the defendant only half guilty.

It was in the case of Andrew Tischauser, who was tried for dangerously shooting John Shay Feb. 22 last.

The verdict found the defendant guilty of assault, without malice, and directed a fine of $160. The judge said they should either have found the defendant guilty as charged, assault to kill, or acquitted him.

Various Influences Combined to Beat

Wheat Down.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The news was mostly bullish this morning, but the price of wheat nevertheless declined. London advised that the reports of damages to the crops of the control of the cont he reports of damages to the crops of Arentine and Southern Russia had been cor firmed and that the crop of Roumania was smaller than was looked for. The exports from the United States for the week were 4,665,000 bu, the largest since September 4,665,000 bu, the largest since September, 1833, and 1,200,000 bu more than last week. The bank clearings of the country for the week showed an increase. These were some of the bullish features. On the other hand a report was received that it was raining in the drought-stricken districts of India. Liverpool opened week at 4,601d lower, but closed steadier, 4d off. North-western receipts were larger and a continuance of larger receipts from that territory was expected next week. Moreover, the feeling on the board was bearish. It was thought that the advance already secured had been as great as the situation warranted and a reaction was looked for. Dealers had about as long lines as they cared to carry over Sunday and some long lines were liquidated. Under these influences December wheat opened at 806804c, against 80%c at the close yesterday, sold off to 75c rallied to 734,6734c, touched 79c again and firmed up to 734c.

Prices Broke at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Long wheat came out in considerable quantities to-day, and prices broke over a cent a bushel. Covering by traders led to a sharp raily at one time, but weakness again set in and the close was heavy. The decline was attributed to predictions of larger Northwestern receipts, lower cables and rain in India. Total sales were 2,705,000 bushels. December ranged from 87%c to 83%c and closed at 88c. LYMAN, N. H., Nov. 14.—A terrible double crime was committed in this little town. Herbert R. Ash, a well-to-do farmer, and one of the best known men in the community, shot his wife and then hanged himself. The first intimation of the crime was when the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ash delivered a note to a brother of Ash. The note read as follows:
"Dear Brother-When you read these lines Ella and I will be numbered with the dead."

The body of Ash was found hanging by a halter around his neck from a beam over the barn door. There was a bullet wound in one arm that showed that he had attempted his own life with the revolver, which was the means of his wife's death. There was evidence of a struggle between the husband and wife. No reason for the deed can be assigned, as the marital relations of Ash and his wife were supposed to be of the happlest. LYMAN, N. Haute and Logansport, St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre Haute.

The bill sets forth that in 1870 the defendant company acquired possession of the St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre-Haute Railroad, and that 1892 it took charge of the Terre Haute and Peoria Railroad, entering into a contract with it for ninety-nine years, Prior to this latter consolidation, in 1887, the Terre Haute and Peoria had by deed of trust conveyed all its property to the Union Trust Co. of New York, to secure first mortgage gold coupon bonds, to the amount of $1,800,000, due March 1, 1897, interest at 5 per cent. In 1892, while the negotiations for consolidation which the Terre Haute and Indianapolis were pending, the Terre Haute and Peoria authorized the issue of bonds to the amount of $2,500,000, payable to the Union Trust Co., for the purpose of improving the road and for retiring the first issue of bonds. The consolidation was effected in October, 1892, and the bonds were issued.

By the terms of the contract entered into between the defendant company and the bondholders it was agreed that 30 per cent of the gross earnings of the Terre Haute and Peoria Railroad should be devoted to the payment of the interest on the Terre Haute and Peoria bonds, taxes and rentals, the remainder of the 30 per cent, if there should be any, to be paid to the Terre Haute and Peoria bonds, taxes and rentals, the remainder of the 30 per cent, if there should be any, to be paid to the Terre Haute and Peoria have been as follows: For the thirteen months ending Oct. 31, 1893, 349,520,33; for the year ending

STATISTICS OF IMMIGRATION.

FACTS FROM THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER GENERAL.

ONLY A POLICE HIRELING. THERE WAS NO RESISTANCE. NO GROUND FOR COMPLAINT

Alien Population Not Growing in Un due Proportions and Is Industrious and Self-Supporting.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.-The Commi sioner General of Immigration in his an-nual report shows that during the last fiscal year the arrival of immigrants in this country aggregated 343,267, of whom 340,468 were Railway.

Indeed and 2,799 were debarred and deported at the expense of the various steamship lines. by which they came. Of those departed, 776 were found to be Peorla, Indiana and Lake Michigan, Terre Haute and Logansport, St. Louis, Vandalla and Terre Haute.

The bill sets forth that in 1870 the defender. public charges within a year after their ar-ber debarred there were 238 who became public charges within a year after their arrival, and hence were returned to the countries whence they came.

The Commissioner General states that he knows of no immigrant landed in this country during the last year who is a burden upon any public or private institution. With some exceptions, the report states, the physical characteristics of the year's immigration were those of a hardy, sound, laboring class, accustomed, and apparently well able, to earn a livelihood wherever capable and industrious labor can secure employment. As to occupations, it was composed largely of the classes designated as skilled and unskilled laborers, with some professionals. The amount of money brought into the country by immigrants was at least $4,917,318, and probably was largely in excess of these figures.

The statistics at hand, the Commissioner General states, "do not justify the conclusions that our alien population is growing in undue proportions. A comparison of the figures for the past year, 343,257, with the average annual immigration for the preceding ten fiscal years, 435,085, discloses a decrease of 91,818, or over 21 per cent. Such data as I have been able to obtain as to their own country, though approximate only, lead me to doubt seriously that there could be any material increase in our foreign born population since 1883."

The arrivals for the fiscal years 1894 and 1895 aggregated 258,536. The report shows that of the total number of immigrants over 14 years of age that arrived during the year 5,066 could not write, and 78,191 could neither read nor write, which is 28,63 per cent of the whole number. Of those who could neither read nor write and Moravia, 5,281 from other parts of Austro-Hungary, 2,473 from Ireland, 1,565 from Arabia and Syria, and 1,589 from Portugal. The report shows that of the whole number of arrivals 212,466 were males and 130,801 females.

POWDER TESTS.

Satisfactory Results of San Francisc Big Gun Experiments.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 14.-So mportant tests were made of powder with the big guns that guard the entrance to the Golden Gate yesterday. It turned out that Golden Gate yesterday. It turned out that not only the powder, but the guns, were well tested, though the cannon have been proved by much higher pressure than that exerted on them yesterday.

The artillery officers who have recently arrived from Florida were prominent spectators at the trial, as it was the first time that they had seen the big guns fired. The men of four artillery batterles witnessed the workings of the guns and were afterwards drilled at the twelve-inch rifles and the mortar batterles.

The object of the trials was to test some new and improved powder recently perfected by the California Powder Works at Santa Cruz. The trials were highly satisfactory and prove that California can produce some of the highest class explosives known.

duce some of the hignest class exponents known.

The first test was made with a 1,000-pound shell and a charge of 490 pounds of brown prismatic powder. The charge is suposed to be of 500 pounds. The new powder gave a screen velocity of 2,037 feet per second and a muzzle velocity of 2,035 feet, with a pressure of 37,350 pounds.

These figures show that with thirty-five pounds less powder than allowed, a velocity of thirty feet above requirements was obtained with a pressure of 650 pounds below the limit.

GALVESTON. Tex.. Nov. 14.—Major Miller of the United States Corps of Engineers has advertised for bids for building a mortar battery on Fort Point to protect the entrance to Galveston harbor. The battery will consist of eight mortars and two 10-inch rifle guns. It is thought that the work can be completed in about five months after the contract is let. The bids will be opened Nov. 30.

It Is Not Expected to Be Made Under Twelve Months.

LONDON, Nov. 14.-The following semi

"Misapprehensions appear to exist as to the nature of the arrangements reached between the United States, Great Britain and Venezuela. Having preferred to leave the negotiations in the hands of the United States, Great Britain agreed with the United States upon the conditions of arbitration. An actual treaty for this purpose will be concluded between Great Britain and Venezuela, but the previous agreement outlining the treaty's main proviso has already been made between Great Britain and the United States, and removes the prospect of any difficulty between Venezuela and Great Britain in regard to the terms of the treaty. The decision of the arbitration court is not expected under twelve months.

"Anent the term of years mentioned in the agreement, it is admitted here that there are practically no settlers on either side of the disputed line who have been there for over a decade."

VENEZUELA'S MINISTER.

He Says England May Be Shut Out

From the Orinoco Country. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.-Senor Jose A drade, Minister from Venezuela to the United States, is at the Hotel Savoy. He said:

"There is much concerning the Venezuela negotiations that I cannot speak of, but I may say that Venezuela's claim is practically conceed, for all we worked for was that the dispute be referred to a fair tribunal. Lord Salisbury's announcement at the Lord — Mayor's banquet, I believe, was brought out by President Cleveland's firm stand and by the knowledge that the American Commission would and must render an adverse report.

"What will be the effort of the agreement of England to a clause requiring fifty years' occupancy to make a claim to territory good?"

"I think it will shut England out of the Orinoco country, and the watershed of the Cuyuni River, and leave her little of the disputed territory except perhaps the settlements between the Essequibo and Pomaroon Rivers." drade. Minister from Venezuela to the Unit

Germany's Attitude.

Germany's Attitude.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—With respect to the Venezuela settlement, the views of the Foreign Office seem to find expression in an article from the Kolnische Zeitung, which is reproduced with approval by the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung (the official organ). The article says: "We wish to take the first opportunity to declare that the precedent is only English, and in no way European. Germany at least, will never tolerate the intervention of a foreign State in the protection of German interests in South and Central America."

DR. CASTILLO ARRESTED.

Spain Seeks to Punish Him on Charge of Filibustering.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.-Dr. Joaquin de Castillo, sub-delegate in the United States o Castillo, sub-delegate in the United States of the Cuban rebel government, was arrested yesterday afternoon by United States Deputy Marshal Daniel Hurley, upon the complaint of Arturo Baldasano-Topeto, Spanish Consul-General in this city, who charges Dr. Castillo with aiding and abetting a fill-bustering expedition to Cuba, alleged to have sailed from this country on the steamship Laurada on May 8. Dr. Castillo was held by United States Commissioner Shields in $2,500 bail, which was furnished.

Horatio S. Rubens, counsel for the Cuban delegation in this city, who represented the

He at once furnished cash bail. Mr. Rubens said yesterday:

"In order to try to offset the bad effect caused in Havana and Madrid by the defeat which Weyler has sustained, the Spanish Consul-General has sworn out the warrant for the arrest of Dr. Castillo, charging him with having volated the neutrality laws of the United States so far back as May 8. The news will be cabled to Havana and Madrid and an effort will be made to cheer the spirits of the Spaniards, who have been despondent since Weyler's latest fallure. I say failure, because, having had the Cubans surrounded, as he reports, and having carried their positions at the point of the bayonet after a flere struggle, only seven rebels' bodies were found as evidence of the alleged Spanish victory."

TALK OF WAR.

The Rumors Not Borne Out by the Administration.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 .- A special to the Chronicle from Washington, D. C., says: To a Senator who called upon him to in-quire about the war rumors in regard to Cuba, President Cleveland replied that the position of this Government was, as stated position of this Government was, as stated in his last annual message to Congress, one of traditional sympathy with a people strug-gling for autonomy and freedom, but, never-theless, this Government felt its plain duty honestly to fulfill every international oblihonestly to tutul every international obligation.

The President further said that every precaution had been taken, so that if occasion should arise in Cuba the United States could assert itself with force, but he did not think that occasion would arise.

Secretary Lamont expressed his individual opinion that some authoritative statement should be made to put an end to these "disturbing and unjustified rumors of war."

Diplomatic Secrets Revealed.

Diplomatic Secrets Revealed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—"The Island of Cuba," a book written by Lieut. A. 8. Rowan. United States army, and Dr. M. M. Ramsey, professor of romance and language at the Columbian University, which appeared a few days ago, is causing a perceptible stir in army and diplomatic circles. Some diplomatic secrets are given for the first time to the public, notably that a fund of $30,000 per annum, provided for in the Cuban budget, is set aside for the "secret expenses of the Legation at Washington and the consulates of the United States."

This fund forms a propaganda for the distribution of literature antagonistic to the Cuban insurgents.

Conference With Gen. Lee.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 14.—Consul-General Fitzhugh Lee was expected to visit Richmond to-day, but he will not be here. It is said he has been called to Washington for a conference with the President. A friend of Lee's says that in a conversation lately the Consul-General stated that if the President and Congress were to adopt the recommendations he has made, or will make, the Cuban troubles, in his judgment, will soon be settled.

The Well-Known New York Merchant, David Hirsch, Finds Health in Paine's Celery Compound.

With the return of cool weather hosts of men and women who relied on their summer vacation to make them strong and well came home still tired, with poor appetites and depressed by the thought of the months of hard work ahead.

Their overwrought nerves and bodies to day demand something more than a mere rest. Their blood needs to be awept of its impurities and the entire nervous organization reinforced and built up by a genuine invigorator before good appetite will wait on digestion and health on both.

The bracing weather of November, with debilitating summer past, and the severity of winter not yet arrived, is the very best time for recruiting the strength and getting rid of disease. Contrast the healthy, well nourished appearance of persons who have taken Paine's celery compound with their former bloodless, nerveless, drowsy condition! Men and women getting along in years find a remarkable increase in vigor and a brighter, more cheerful state of mindfrom the use of this great remedy.

Don't mope along and submit to indigestion and all its consequent ills, sleepiesn, liver disorder, continual headaches or rheumatism. Paine's celery compound will make you strong and keep you so. Its nourishing, health-making virtues have been so carefully considered, and so exactly fitted to the needs of the tired, with poor and heart weakness, feeds the nervous organisms so sleep becomes natural and refreshing, promotes an increased appetite, and furnishes the

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the roots skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative.

A Pilot's Advice. To the Editor of the Post-Dispa

I predicted several years ago and too Representative Cobb, Senator Cockreil, President Comstock and others that any caving of the bank, shifting of the bars, crevasse, etc., would close out the South Pass in twenty-four hours. Now the Eads Company has spent their appropriation of $100,000 for keeping the Jetty channel up to the specifications, and they have falled 100,000 for keeping the Jetty channel to the specifications, and they have fat to close the crevasse. The citizens want $250,000 from Congress, and come for help. Well, Mr. Editor, if $100,000 fa while the water was low, $250,000 from Coumberland, Tennessee, Dec. 1, the Ocumberland, Tennessee, White, Arkan Yasoo, Red and Ouchita, and proba Missouri and up-Mississippi rivers will gin to pour out their floods on this pass crevasse, and if the waters don't cut out two or three times as wide if will it to a great depth, which will be worse the money appropriated.

Now the question, what is best to done? Should the engineers fail to dithe crevasse it will be the best and prothing to do, also the cheapest, to make new jetty in the main artery of the riverse was new jetty in the main artery of the riverse.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

that to put out wing dams or jettles to get sufficient water in to excavate. That has been the shoal plan, and he never got the thirty-foot channel there yet.

Now, the South West Pass is the main artery. It is over 5,000 feet wide, will average 125 feet in depth, and has seventeen feet on bar when the jettles were begun by Bads. Now here is a body volume of water that will give a channel three times the width of the Eads jettles and from ten to twenty-five feet greater in depth, say forty or fitty feet. Now the greatest expense of the boycotters in St. Louis, I buy $2,000 to $3,000 worth of goods in St. Louis are not required; piling alone will do the work.

The meeting was somewhat put out at the impertantence of Mr. Amos Rusie, who was once a pitcher for the New York base ball club, and who has had the presumption to assert that he is a free white man, and not a negotiable charted to be bartered for without being consulted in any way whatever.

Mr. Rusie will not do just exactly as the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club wants him to do, so the New York club.

Mr. Rusie's affair has passed into the courts now, and will be an interesting study. In the meantime the sale and barter of men goes on. Meyers of St. Louis was traded for Hartman of Milwaukee. Jack Crooks, formerly of the St. Louis club, was soid to Columbus, in the minor League.

Corroran of Brooklyn was traded to Cincinnati for Smith, Fisher and a cash bonue, and all are satisfied.

FOOT BALL.

Association Clubs Have Come to an

at the South Side. There should be a good crowd of coursing nthusiasts to witness the South Side natches to-morrow. Some of the best dogs in the city are entered in the all-aged stake and the contest, on the face of the entries promises to be a hammer and tongs affair. The great Bendigo, the peer of any grey-hound on earth, and Mr. E. H. Mulcaster's Little Fairy will try conclusions, and that the struggle will be a great one will not be news to anyone who knows the merits of the two rivals. In the same stake is Secretary Goessling's $100 dog Good Cheer; who goes against Master Dennis. Good Cheer is of the purple azure, and his maiden effort under his recently-acquired owner, will be watched with interest. Good judges believe, however, that he will fully come up to the expectations of his owner. Goessling is generally credited with knowing a good thing when he sees it.

The puppy stake is a well balanced affair and the best dog will win it. The outcome is exceedingly problematical, but visitors to the South Side to-morrow can depend on a series of coursing matches that will cause sluggish blood to tingle.

that the Morgan & Wright Tire Co, has been absorbed by the Dunlop Tire Co, of England. The price paid for the control of the American concern is said to be between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

The Dunlop company has the monopoly of the bloycle tire business in England and the Morgan & Wright Co, is certainly the biggest concern in America and has so far handled the bulk of the business.

It is stated that the same syndicate is trying to purchase the Stearns bicycle plant for $2,000,000.

TABULES

Mary Trumble, for three years employed in the family of Mr. M. A. Rowan, editor of the Oshkosh (Wis.) Signal, said in an interview on the 23d of May, 1895: "I am only too glad to give my experience with the Ripans Tabules, and I hope some fellow-sufferer will be led to find a cure in them, as I was. For more than two years I never knew what it was to be free from that awful disease, dyspepsia. I also had almost constantly a dull headache over my eyes. I felt so badly most of the time that I could not do my work as I should do. I became discouraged, broken down. One day Mrs. Rowan, my employer, gave me a few Ripans Tabules and told me to try them. I had spent nearly all my savings for months in doctoring and for different kinds of medicine that seemed to do me no good, but as these were given to me I thought I might try them. I used these (about a dozen) and then bought a box. The result was I felt like another woman, and I am now almost entirely free of my trouble with my stomach, and the headache is all gone. I always keep the Tabules on hand and take one now and then as I feel I need it. They have truly worked wonders for me. (Signed), MARY TRUMBLE, 52 Pleasant av.,

HER HUSBAND WAS FORCED TO STEAL

A WOMAN'S STORY OF A FAMOUS EXPRESS ROBBERY.

ELROD'S POWER OVER HARDIN.

The Latter's Wife Gives Sensational Evidence in Mrs. Elrod's Case for Damages.

Some highly sensational developments are ropping out in the famous Hardin-Elrod xpress robbery case.

This case keeps bobbing up periodically o give the Adams Express Co. trouble. After working for years to bring the per-petrators of the robbery to justice the company is now in the role of defendant. El-rod, Hardin, Taylor and Morris are all at large and now Mrs. Elrod comes forward and sues the company for $50,000 for dam-aging her character by prosecuting her husband on a charge of which he was ac-quitted. The damage suit is now on trial at Nashville, Tenn.

The feature of Monday's hearing was a sensational alleged confession by Mrs. Minnie B. Ketchum, Hardin's wife, intended to show that Elrod was not only an accomplice in the new famous express robbery, but the instigator of the crime.

In the confession Mrs. Ketchum says her husband told her that Elrod got him his position as express messenger with the understanding that they were to steal at least a million dollars.

Mrs. Ketchum says Elrod forced her husband to crime by threatening to have him returned to the Missouri Penitentiary for an unexpired term. She says that while Hardin was employed as a messenger Elrod forced him to turn over nearly all his salary to him.

She says Elrod got nearly all of the $35,000 stolen from the expression of the expression.

She says Eirod got nearly all of the 33,000 stolen from the express company. Mrs. Ketchum's testimony was introduced by the express company to invalidate Mrs. Eirod's claim for damages. They hope to show that though acquitted by a jury, Eirod was an accomplice in the crime. Elrod was an accomplice in the crime.

The Elrod-Hardin case is of particular interest to St. Louisans. The principals were at one time in business here, and the Elrods were well and favorably known socially.

Charlton Elrod came to St. Louis in the winter of 1883, under patronage of a weilknown citizen of St. Louis.

While visiting in Louisville in the fall of 1883 the St. Louisan met Charlton Elrod, a young man of attractive appearance and manne's, and son of the most prominent photographer in Louisville. The acquaintance ripened into friendship, and the St. Louis man took a great liking to young Elrod.

ance ripened into friendship, and the St. Louis man took a great liking to young Elrod.

A short time after his return to St. Louis he received a letter from Elrod, asking him to find him a suitable location for a photograph gallery. An arrangement was made by which Elrod secured a gallery at 308 North Sixth street. He came to St. Louis and fitted up the gallery in elaborate style.

He was successful from the start and secured the patronage of some of the swellest people in St. Louis. Suave in manner and pleasing in presence, it did not take him long to work his way into good society. His family came here and lived in a handsome house at Washington and Vandeventer avenues.

Not long after Elrod opened the gallery a strange man showed up there and was introduced as Charles Hardin. He was said to have bought an interest in the business. He was unusually quiet and retiring and well he might have been, for he had a terrible secret to conceal.

His real name was Ketchum, and he had just been released from the Missouri Penitentiary, where he had served six years on three counts—one of grand larceny and two of forgery.

Previous to that he had escaped from the Kansas City jail, where he was being held for stealing wheat from the Chicago & Alton Railroad.

On July 2, 1890, Elrod went to Louisville, leaving Hardin in charge of the gallery, On July 4 the gallery was gutted by fire.

Though Hardin stoutly maintained that he left the gallery was gutted by fire.

Though Hardin in charge of the gallery, On July 4 the gallery was for incendiary origin.

Investigation showed that Elrod was deeply in debt and that a mortgage covering the gallery was held by Eugene J. Cuendet, a prominent St. Louis jeweler. There was nothing on which to base a direct charge of arson, and the insurance company paid $2,250 to Hardin. This was just half as much as he demanded.

A short time after the settlement Eirod wrote from Louisville to the St. Louis man Company between Cincinnati and Nashville.

On Nov. 27, 1892. Hardin received at Cincinnati two packages, one containing $5,000 and the other $10,000, all in bills.
When the packages reached Gaiveston, their destination, they were found to contain nothing but brown paper and cardboard. Capt. J. F. Dodge, the Weils-Fargo detective, was put on the case.
He found that the end seal on each package had been broken, the money extracted and the package resealed. The original seals bore the name of the New York bank which shipped the money. The bogus seals were stamped with a die bearing the one word "bank."

It was found that the die was made for a man named Charles Taylor, an employe of Eirod, who was then running a photograph gallery at Nashville. Brown paper and cardboard like that found in the package was found in Eirod's gallery.

It was also found that when Hardin's tell weeded Naviville he had seale weeded Naviville here he was arrested in St. Louis, inquiries been received from his victims by Harrigan and United States Detective by. Sullivan's pet scheme was to steal forms of insurance policies, move to er city, represent himself as the agent company, fill out the blanks and issue olicies at greatly reduced premiums, cketed the money and fled.

Fal Agent Butler of the British-Amerire Insurance Company called at the of United States Marshal Lynch Satwith a warrant charging Sullivan heft and fraud. He was told that the er had been transferred to Indian-Mr. Butler said that Sullivan had policies from his company and issued in Indiana, collecting at least $1,700 in https://doi.org/10.1001/

It was not Saint Crispin Day, but Fritz Hoebber was going to marry Catherine Vanburn; Fritz, the gayest and most skillful journeyman shoemaker in the town; Catharine, the loveliest and brightest little seamstress in the neighborhood.

When the service was over the joyous band repaired to a famous tavern in the outskirts of the town, where a sumptuous dinner had been prepared.

They found everything in readiness, and just as they were sitting down it was remarked that the bride and her husband had disappeared. Great was the excitement! They waited patiently a few minutes, but soon they lost all patience, and a committee was sent in search of the guilty pair, who, unmindful of their suests, thus delayed the anxiously expected dinner hour.

Probably the most active worker in this novel campaign in St. Louis is, Miss Maude Westbrook of 634 Clifton avenue. When seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday she said:

"Yes, it is true that the Bryan women of St. Louis are now quietly organizing in every ward and neighborhood to make Bryan President in 1900. We believe that our candidate's defeat was caused solely by the fact that on one side was a well drilled army under Mark Hanna opposed only by unorganized forces. The Republicans were right in stating that we were a "mob," because the new ideal of our party was born at the Chicago convention and we did not have time to organize. Besides this fact a large number of our leaders were no doubt in the pay of the enemy, and a spy in our ranks who could shout vociferously stood as good a chance as any one of us being appointed to a command. Now, by the Democratic women of the land starting in at once for the four years campaign, we think that we can bring system out of this chaos. "The volunteer labor of a million women will more than offset the money subscribed by the bankers and monopolists, and then by us women taking hold vigorously the men no doubt will take fresh heart.

"The one thing I wish understood concerning the present organization is that it is not to be made up of talkers. It is not a new woman "fair. We want especially the old-fashioned women who can sew and cook. We would rather have a married woman with children, especially boys, who will some day be voters, to those who have nothing to do but talk politics. When we hold our little meetings in the homes throughout the city, one woman will read a selection from some instructive book concerning the relation between the home and public duty, while the listeners will be working on flags, banners and decorations for our demonstrations or sewing for the purpose of earning some money to help carry along our movement.

The deceased was 14 years old and was born in Kentucky. While he was a boy his parents settled near Springfield, Ill., and at 20 he was admitted to the bar. In his first case he acted as assistant to Abraham Lincoln. Gen. Wingate moved to St. Louis in the later 50's and became a prominent Republican. He was Judge Advocate General of the State during the war and was elected Attorney General of the State in 1864 and again in 1883. At the close of his second term he resumed practice in St Louis.

Gen. Wingate had been ill for a long time. For the past five years he lived at Ironton, Mo., and moved to St. Louis to get better medical care a few weeks ago. The funeral will take place from St. Alphonsus' Church on Grand avenue.

Supply Committee was not binding upon the board.

In contracting for coal, the Supply Committee framed its advertisement in conflict with one of the board's rules. Subsequently a contract was awarded on the resulting bids at a meeting of the board, illegally called because the required three days' notice was not given to bidders. The Consumers' Coal Co. contested the award.

Judge Klein held that under the board's charter it could make contracts independently of the Supply Committee. The rule in question applied to the committee and not to the board. The board could make any contract in any manner it saw fit.

Judge Klein cited the language of the board's charter, as capable of the very broadest interpretation, as follows:

"The School Board, in expressed terms, by its charter, has power to sue and be sued, implead and be limpleaded, defend and be defended, in all courts of law and equity, and in all causes whatsoever; may purchase, receive and hold property, real and personal, and may resell or dispose of the same, and may do all other acts as natural persons."

His decision in substance is found also in a case involving a contract let by the Board for school text books, in which the same latitude was allowed. In another decision the courts refused to force the Board to abide by the terms of its contract with a school janitor on account of the liberality of its charter.

The decision of the St. Louis Court of Appeals in the suit instituted by Anderson Bros. to enjoin the consummation of a contract for the erection of the new High School building further enlarged the powers of the School Board. The decision was rendered May 14, 1894, and declared that although the Board might let a contract in had faith, it could not be enjoined from executing it.
